

		Title (or description)	Comments	Position
A	Elaine Burford	Welcome, harbingers of Spring	Good colours. Soft textures. Like the bee! Plenty to see (including the cheeky fly!)	2
B	Jackie Winder	(Tree peony)	Lovely soft green and 'rhubarb pink' colours
C	Lesley Coombs	Spring at the front door, designed and hand made by the entrant	The white frames detract from the pretty hanging basket.
D	Jenny Mitchell	(Duck)	I love the look of curiosity! Perhaps it's her first sight of spring 2024?	2
E	Lin Hillyard	Spring has Sprung	Rather solitary but spring is nearly sprung!
F	Sarah Dacre	(white camelia)	The bee is having a snooze! Plenty of spring pollen?
G	Susan Scullard	Pink blossom in a field of daffodils	You don't get more 'spring-like' than this composition	1
H	Tessa Hammond	Rainwashed primulas	Pity that the terracotta pot rim cuts across a good photo
I	Jeanette Jahnz	Promise of things to come	Lovely blue sky but perhaps a little more spring colour would help
J	Helen Medlock	Bursting with energy	Excellent use of depth of field. Really enhances the softness of the subject	3
K	Victor Medlock	(aconites)	The contrasting textures and colours are well presented in this photograph
L	David Ledger	Springtime at last	Snowdrops are always a great subject. Well done. I like the low angle and rustic posts

General comments:

The judge saw the original photos as emailed, some of today's displayed prints may have been cropped

Next time, please send in a 3 x 2 format (ie for 6" x 4" prints),

A title is really helpful